Spotlight on Faculty Leadership

This week we celebrate the success of the faculty portion of the One School, One Future Campaign, led by faculty members Dr. Stuart Cornwell (math department chair) and Mrs. Sandra Thompson (kindergarten), parents of Camden, '09, and Kaitlyn, '11. 100% of ESA's faculty and staff members—across Lower, Middle and Upper Schools—have given to the capital campaign. Thanks for your commitment, Sandy and Stu!

On why Stuart and Sandy volunteered to lead the faculty campaign: "We believe in ESA, and we want to do everything we can to promote the school's future."

The ESA Performing Arts Department presents

March 5 and 6 at 7 pm
The Chapel in Cade
Tickets: $5 student and $10 adults
Tickets available at 337-365-1416 or at the door

Ninth grade physics students tested containers designed to protect eggs, using both cushioning and devices to decrease velocity, during a drop from the Chapel loft to the concrete floor below. They tested the containers Monday—with results ranging from safe and sounds to crunchy and shattered.

Announcements

- Tickets and information about ESA's $10,000 cash raffle will be going home with students next week. Be sure to check backpacks, cars and pockets!
Tuesday—Middle School
Wednesday—Lower School
Thursday—Upper School
- Anders Martin Rosen was born today. Congratulations to Garrett (US history), '97, Allie, '95, and grandpa Dr. Paul Baker!
- The deadline for the Lower School's Falcon Feast hot lunch is Friday, March 12th.
- Jason's Deli Night—the 5th grade fundraiser continues every Wednesday in March and April from 5-9 pm. The ESA fifth grade will receive 10% of the proceeds to use for their upcoming trip. Bring the attached coupon with you to Jason's.
- It's also ESA Night at Otter's Chicken in Lafayette Thursday, March 11, 3-10pm. 10% of the sales will go to ESA. Three of the four Otter's owners are ESA alumni! The address is 1845 Pinhook, in the parking lot of the late bus drop-off by Office Depot and Party Time.

From creating props (such as the dumpster above) to dress rehearsal, the Middle and Upper School cast members of the musical have worked hard and are ready to entertain tonight and tomorrow night.

The Lower School Student Library Committee proposed a Pajama Day to celebrate National Read across America Day as well as Dr. Seuss's birthday this week. In their letter to Mrs. Johnson, the committee guaranteed that no student would be tardy because it would not take so long to get dressed. Mrs. J was sold and pajamas were worn Tuesday!
